Those providing care to military casualties are particularly well represented in these awards. Those honoured and based in at the Selly Oak Hospital in Birmingham include a padre, the Reverend Steven Whiting; a Military Liaison Officer from the Rifles, Warrant Officer Class 2 Robert Proctor; and a RAF remedial gymnast, Sergeant Justin Hartland Scholes.

From the medical Reserves were the two Commanding Officers of the Welsh and Scottish Territorial Army Field Hospitals: Colonel Philip James Hubbard and Colonel Sam Rawlinson, who has also been responsible for the introduction of the new blood transfusion policies that have significantly contributed to the increased survival rates of UK casualties treated in field hospitals.
